

Dear Members of TU Berlin,
dear Friends and Partners,

With

- 20% of its students coming from abroad,
- more than 130 nations represented on campus,
- more than 400 successful international collaborations,
- and an external campus in El Gouna/Egypt,

TU Berlin is a distinctly international university. Thus, it is my goal to organize our joint teaching, learning, research and work at the university in such a way that all our members can experience this diversity, openness and internationality as an enrichment.

In a joint endeavor with the newly established Office of International Affairs and a great number of other university divisions, we have developed a shared vision and comprehensive measures aimed at expanding our successful international activities and further advancing the level of Internationalization@Home at TU Berlin. I wish to thank all contributors and look forward to continuing the work in this field.

Prof. Dr. Angela Ittel
Vice President for International Relations and

TU BERLIN INTERNATIONAL

VISION “INTERNATIONAL TU BERLIN”

Our principle is to further expand the successful activities that already exist in the international arena, while improving the international structures and support services at the TU Berlin for the benefit of all its present and future members (Internationalization@Home).

ATTRACTIVE EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION

We are expanding the range of courses offered in English as well as the internationality of the curricula. All our students have the opportunity to gain international and intercultural experience as part of their studies. Our international students receive individualized support during all phases of their studies.

FIRST-CLASS RESEARCH LOCATION

Researchers from around the globe advance the standing of our university and its members by their scientific excellence and their international experience. Internationality and mobility are constituent elements in the advancement of our early-stage researchers and academics. We support our scientists in establishing and maintaining their international research collaborations. We are internationally visible and exploit our full potential with regard to attracting international funds. We contribute substantially to the shaping of international research areas.

INTERNATIONALITY FOR EVERYONE

All our members benefit from internationality and interculturality. We support the every-day work and professional development of all our staff members by providing mobility options, intercultural training and language courses.

GLOBAL RESPONSIBILITY

We offer high-quality education and research far beyond the borders of Europe. As part of transnational research projects, we promote global knowledge and technology transfer to a selection of developing and newly industrialized countries.
